Find Your Calling & Love Your Life

Susan “MoJo” Morrow-Johnson fumbled her ADHD-way from a freakishly-happy childhood to an extraordinarily ordinary adulthood, until she discovered a stunning latent talent: she could talk to dead people. MoJo added a heaping helping of the Other Side to her cauldron of talents, including divine guidance, writing, speaking, philosophy, and a pinch of smart-ass for good measure.

Et voila! MoJo’s true calling:

Audacious Author . Spirit-acious Speaker . Self-Help Leader

Here’s the problem: Around age 40, many women begin to ...question their destiny, what they are meant to do, what happened to the dreams they used to have before husband/s, child/ren, career/s, aging parent/s, divorce/s, laundry, dog/s, and life happened ...understand that they are meant for something more than (or in addition to) who they have become in the last 20 years ...wish they knew how to find their calling, so they can love their life.

And here’s the solution: Enter MoJo

Here’s the big secret about your Destiny that nobody’s ever told you: You get to choose it. It’s not some quixotic quest or cosmic crusade, nor is it an undiscoverable mystery—you get to choose from the gifts you were born with to create your own recipe for “Destiny Stew”.

Let’s talk about...

- * DESTINY (of course)
- * The Divine Feminine
- * Finding Your Calling
- * Manifestation
- * Super-Easy Meditation
